This is 100% innocuous Christmas/holiday music guaranteed to disturb no one at your cozy coffee shop - totally professional music performed by 100% professional musicians ... songs range from pleasant smooth jazz to innocuous "chill lounge" to new agey instrumentals. There are some tracks with vocal performances* - totally professional so that they do not veer into muzak or cloying but nothing to provoke anyone to really notice or look up from pecking on keyboards, reading a book or conversations. In most cases on the instrumentals, it's hard to tell they're even Christmas songs - most of them just sound like professional piano noddling. This is not a CD you'll ever put on to listen to - it's too bland for that but for a cozy coffee shop where you want some music to soften the mood but don't really want anything that rises above the din, this will do. ---K.C., amazon.com
