Long John Baldry - On Stage Tonight. Baldry's Out (1993)

1. Everyday I Have the Blues/Times Are Getting Tougher Then Tough
2. Shake That Thing
3. Insane Asylum
4. I'm Ready
5. I'd Rather Go Blind
6. Baldry's Out
7. Thrill's a Thrill
8. Backwater Blues
9. It Ain't Easy
10. Stormy Monday Blues
11. Don't Try to Lay No Boogie Woogie on the King of Rock and Roll
12. Midnight in New Orleans

Long John Baldry (vocals, 12-string guitar, harmonica); Papa John King (vocals, guitar); Butch Coulter (vocals, acoustic guitar, harmonica); John Lee Sanders (vocals, saxophone, keyboards); Kathi McDonald (vocals); Eric Webster (piano); Al Webster (drums).

Long John Baldry was one of the early leaders of the British blues-rock scene. His deep, parched voice was ideally suited for the blues, and his penchant for playing with musicians that would one day find fame in the rock world was surpassed in British blues circles only by John Mayall and Alexis Korner.

Legendary British blues cornerstone Long John Baldry has a long history of leading amazing bands and putting on incredible 'live' shows. This is his first 'live' release, captured at the Fabrik Club in Hamburg, Germany, and includes a retrospect of his blues influences, his many hits and that amazing voice. There's a smokin' live version of Don't Try To Lay No Boogie Woogie On The King Of Rock n' Roll, and I'd Rather Go Blind featuring Kathi McDonald. Long John Baldry and his band at their best on a hot night. ---forum.warez.ag
