

Big Jack Johnson – We Got To Stop This Killin' (1996)

Written by bluesever

Friday, 03 September 2010 13:54 - Last Updated Friday, 06 September 2013 12:23

Big Jack Johnson – We Got To Stop This Killin' (1996)

1-We Got Stop This Killing

2-Hummin' Blues

3-Breakdown Blues

4-It's The Fourth Of July

5-Lonesome Road

6-No Good Cow

7-Cracklin' Bread

8-Sweet Home Mississippi

9-Black Rooster

10-Big Foot Woman

Musicians: Big Jack Johnson - Guitar, Vocals, Vocals (Background) Maury "Hooter" Saslaff - Bass Chet Woodward - Drums

Since many modern blues musicians are loath to break away from the norm, Big Jack Johnson can come as a shock. Johnson is determined to keep the blues a vital, living form, so he doesn't simply spit out the old standards again — he writes new songs about modern times, whether it's social commentary or love songs. Not only are his subjects fresh, but he makes sure that his music is fresh too, bringing funk and soul influences to his electrified Delta blues. In short, it fulfills the promise of Daddy, When Is Mama Coming Home by keeping its ambition and adding the grit of Oil Man.--- Thom Owens, Rovi download: uploaded anonfiles mega 4shared mixturecloud yandex mediafire ziddu

back

Big Jack Johnson – We Got To Stop This Killin’ (1996)

Written by bluesever

Friday, 03 September 2010 13:54 - Last Updated Friday, 06 September 2013 12:23
