Michael Osborn was John Lee Hooker's lead guitarist for 13 years. After his stint with Mr. Hooker, one of Michael's songs, Spellbound, was featured on John Lee's 1997 Grammy Award winning "Don't Look Back"! Michael has also backed such musical luminaries as Robben Ford (Michael has a song credit on Robben's "Blue Moon" release), Mark Ford, The Charles Ford Band w/Gary Smith, Charlie Musselwhite, James Cotton, Brownie McGee, Bill Rhoades, Sista Monica and so many others. Mike presently resides in the Portland, Oregon area and has been nominated three times by the Cascade Blues Association for best blues guitarist and once for blues best recording for his CD release of "Touch Tone." As a member of Bill Rhoades and the Party Kings, he taken home 7 awards for best traditional blues band and was inducted into the CBA Hall of Fame as a member of that band! "Michael Osborn is one of the most authentic blues guitarists around today. His style goes straight to the heart of the blues and he'll steal your show if you don't watch out!" ~ Robben Ford
