

Harmonica Shah - Deep Detroit (2000)

Written by bluesever

Tuesday, 15 March 2011 19:35 - Last Updated Friday, 05 February 2021 09:42

Harmonica Shah - Deep Detroit (2000)

1. Dun Made My Getaway - 4:28
2. Flat Down On My Back - 4:07
3. Bloodstains Upside The Wall - 4:58
4. Mellow Down Easy - 4:41
5. What's On Your Mind - 5:33
6. Woman Let It Groove - 3:29 play
7. Don't Kick Me To The Curb - 4:27
8. Born Blind - 3:58 play
9. Do You Remember - 4:40
10. Once upon A Time - 6:51
11. Repo Man - 4:46

Harmonica Shah - Harmonica, Vocals

Howard Glazer - Guitars

Matt Stahl - Drums

Gary Rasmussen, Scott Gattenno, Lou Wilson – Bass

Well-known Midwestern harp master presents down-home Chicago-style blues in the spirit of Muddy Waters, Junior Wells, Sonny Boy Williamson, backed by a hard-driving blues band.

If you are a fan of blues, this is a record you must have. It has all the elements, very classy, simple and cool. This is the music you can just chill out too, or play cards too, or whatever too. a GREAT blues album non-stop. There is not a bad song on this cd. A friend of mine burned a copy for me, after i heard it I had to buy the original. I cant really say it sounds like someone else, because it doesn't, it's pure shah, as close as.

Harmonica Shah - Deep Detroit (2000)

Written by bluesever

Tuesday, 15 March 2011 19:35 - Last Updated Friday, 05 February 2021 09:42

Deep Detroit is the kind of recording rarely heard today—straight blues. It will cure whatever ails you. Their blues contain no overdubs and no second chances, so what you hear is authentic—raw energy and drive, the real thing, the blues.

download (mp3 @320 kbs):

yandex mediafire mega ulozto gett solidfiles

back