Sandra Level is a passionate singer-songwriter. At the question: "What is it you'd love to do?", she answers: 'Making music and turning a smile on people's faces'

Sandra has been making music on her guitar for over 15 years. She writes songs and lyrics and composes within different styles of music. From Pop with classical influences, to rhythm and blues with country elements, EDM, light-jazz and so on. Music is the main issue, it contains many different and beautiful styles and is beautiful in it's original state.

"I'm always looking for borders to cross, that's how my music develops. It's great to have common ground with different musicstyles and being able to express myself within all.

It's also very important to listen tot he people who love my music. After all, they are listening to my voice and hopefully enjoy it as well. ---cdbaby.com
