

Revolutionary Blues Band (1970)

Written by bluesever

Thursday, 15 May 2014 16:17 -

Revolutionary Blues Band (1970)

1. Juicy - 2:41 2. Milkman, Milkman Leave Me Some Cream Today - 3:26 3. Lanoola Goes Limp - 5:05 4. That's the Truth, Baby - 2:59 5. Have a Little Bit More - 3:50 6. Take Me Back to Tennessee - 3:08 7. Cutting the Mustard - 4:14 8. Ring My Chimes - 3:26 9. Funky Lady - 2:58 10. Dirty Town Blues - 4:00 Rod Piazza - Harmonica Tom Scott - Saxophone Arthur Adams - Guitar Lightnin' Red - Vocals Bob Thiele - Producer Lightnin' Jones - Vocals David Bennett Cohen – Guitar

I have always loved this album. It was never released on CD and no songs from it are on YouTube. I was playing it recently, and admiring the fine playing therein. The credits don't list the bassist, drummer or piano player, which is a shame considering what they add to the album. Details about the album are sketchy. As it is dated 1970, I know it is a long shot that I will ever find out, but after forty three years I thought it would be nice to know who I have been listening to all along. --- Blue Dog, blindman.fr.yuku.com download: uploaded yandex 4shared mediafire solidfiles mega zalivalka filecloudio

anonfiles
oboom

back