

Chuck Brown & Eva Cassidy - The Other Side (1992)

Written by bluesever

Wednesday, 28 October 2009 10:44 - Last Updated Thursday, 21 January 2021 09:48

Chuck Brown & Eva Cassidy - The Other Side (1992)

1. Let The Good Times Roll 2. Fever 3. You Don't Know Me 4. I Could Have Told You So
5. Gee Baby, Ain't I Good To You 6. I'll Go Crazy 7. You Don't Know What Love Is 8. *Drown
In My Own Tears* 9. God Bless The Child 10. Red Top 11. Dark End Of The Street, The 12.
Shadow Of Your Smile, The 13. Over The Rainbow 14. You've Changed Chuck Brown
(vocals, guitar); Eva Cassidy (vocals, guitar, keyboards); Keith Grimes, Dave Lourim (guitar);
Dan Cassidy (violin); Matthew Allen (strings); Philip Jehle (clarinet); Tom Crawford, Donnell
Floyd, C.J. (saxophone); Gilbert Pryor, The Reverend Pope, "Little" Benny Harley (trumpet);
Roy Battle (trombone); Lenny Williams (piano, vibes); Mark "Godfather" Lawson (organ); Kent
Wood (organ, synthesizer); Chris Biondo (bass, congas); Keter Betts (upright bass); Raice
McLeod, Jim Campbell, Ju Ju House (drums); William Cook (congas); Darryl Andrews (percussion).

Online CD shops where you can sample tracks before purchasing the disc are especially helpful with Chuck Brown, whose music is rarely programmed on radio. The Other Side consists of '40s and '50s supper-club sounds. Eva Cassidy sings on more than half of the tracks, soloing and performing a number of duets, including "You Don't Know Me," "I Could Have Told You So," and "I'll Go Crazy." The '60s deep soul classic "Dark End of the Street" is the most modern song. Lovers of '50s MOR will love this release; everyone else, will not. --- Andrew Hamilton, allmusic.com download (mp3 @128 kbs):

yandex mega mediafire ulozto gett bayfiles

Chuck Brown & Eva Cassidy - The Other Side (1992)

Written by bluesever

Wednesday, 28 October 2009 10:44 - Last Updated Thursday, 21 January 2021 09:48

back