

R.J. Mischo – Knowledge You Can't Get In College (2010)

Written by bluesever

Sunday, 19 September 2010 19:15 - Last Updated Sunday, 16 June 2013 09:37

R.J. Mischo – Knowledge You Can't Get In College (2010)

01. Two Hours From Tulsa [0:05:13.88] 02. Too Cool For School [0:03:02.98] play 03. Knowledge You Can't Get In College [0:06:07.66] 04. Little Joe [0:04:12.26] 05. Ain't Nothing New [0:04:36.50] 06. Ruthie Lee [0:03:49.40] 07. Please Don't Leave [0:03:31.00] 08. Teacher's Pet [0:02:58.44]

play

09. Big Plans [0:02:47.66] 10. Don't Look Twice [0:03:30.54] 11. Rich Cat [0:04:03.44] 12. Devil's Love Sin [0:03:38.53] 13. Down to the Bottom [0:02:49.48] 14. Don't Tear My Clothes [0:02:00.48]

Personnel: R.J. Mischo - harmonica, vocals Kid Andersen - guitar Rusty Zinn - guitar Sid Morris - keyboards Kedar Roy - bass June Core - drums

Singer/Harmonica player R.J. Mischo began his music career over 20 years ago in Minneapolis. He worked with the area's legends of the Blues scene like Muddy Waters alumni Mojo Buford and Sonny Rogers, as well as Percy Strothers & Milwaukee Slim. R.J. then led his own groups and gained a reputation as one of the region's top blues acts.

His newest CD moves in an unexpected, slightly more modern, direction. Knowledge You Can't Get In College finds Mischo in the company of Kid Andersen and Rusty Zinn (guitar), Sid Morris (piano, organ), Kedar Roy (bass and electric bass), and June Core (drums), and developing a new interest in greasy Sixties-style R&B. The title track, an ode to street smarts, lays a memorable instrumental hook on harmonica over an insistent, push-pull rhythm. "Don't Look Twice" features telepathic interplay between the band members, with strong syncopation, a needle-gun solo from Andersen, and a serpentine Mischo harp break. "Two Hours From Tulsa," the slinky, noir-ish road tune that opens the album, incorporates funky organ stabs, wah-wah rhythm guitar, Mischo's haunting ride-out, and a liquid Andersen solo marked by singing bends a la Otis Rush. As exciting as the funky songs are, they in no way push aside the vintage-inspired blues.

R.J. Mischo – Knowledge You Can't Get In College (2010)

Written by bluesever

Sunday, 19 September 2010 19:15 - Last Updated Sunday, 16 June 2013 09:37

While Mischo takes a Sonny Boy II-style harp approach to his instrumental "Teacher's Pet," Zinn's guitar solo comes from a hillbilly jazz perspective. The juxtaposition works beautifully. Where "Rich Cat" and "Big Plans" are Fifties-oriented, "Ain't Nothin' New" has a more contemporary, slamming groove, big tone from Mischo, and a performance from Zinn that will shake your listening space. Where high-register harp adorns the Mickey Baker rumba "Down To The Bottom," squalling blasts accompany Walter Vinson's tough slow blues "Devil's Love Sin/The Wrong Man." Critics preach creativity from artists as they select cover songs; in presenting these wonderful obscurities, Mischo has mastered the art of crate digging. Combined with fine original material and inspired performances from the truly deep, versatile cast of players, Knowledge rests safely on the top shelf of recent releases. -Tom Hyslop --BLUES REVUE Magazine July 2010 download: uploaded anonfiles mega 4shared mixturecloud yandex mediafire zidd u

back