Swanilda - Leanne Benjamin Franz - Carlos Acosta Dr. Coppélius - Luke Heydon
Choreographer: Dame Ninette de Valois after Lev Ivanov and Enrico Cecchetti Orchestra of The Royal Opera House Nicolae Moldoveanu – conductor Broadcast live by BBC television in February 2000.

Coppélia, a mechanical doll made by the toy-maker Dr. Coppélius, is so life-like that some believe she is his daughter. The mistake leads to intrigue and jealousy in love.

Lianne Benjamin is an ideal Swanilda, always alert and fun loving, yet always intelligent. She thoroughly enjoys her solos and leads the other girls through their paces as easily as she allows the vulnerable Franz to make a fool of himself. Carlos Acosta's Franz, indeed, would have made any but a puppet's heart jump! Luke Heydon's Doctor Coppélius and Leana Palmer's Coppélia could not be bettered. This DVD is a practical tribute to Madam. ---naxos.com
