For many folk, the word "cantata" automatically evokes the word "Bach". However, the church cantata had many other notable practitioners, and some of them are represented here, in a splendid recording by the Genevois group Gli Angeli Genève. There is one J.S. Bach cantata, the beautiful solo cantata BWV 82 "Ich habe genug", given a sterling performance by Stephan MacLeod. The other works, by Telemann, Johann Christoph Bach, Buxtehude and Bruhns, are also both splendid and splendidly done. --- Teemacs (Switzerland), amazon.com

the bass-baritone, Stephan MacLeod, their debut performance was at the Festival Amadeus de Meinier. The ensemble performs an annual season of four concerts in Geneva, primarily dedicated to Bach's cantatas and records for Sony Classical. Their debut album, German Baroque Cantatas Vol. 1 was the Gramophone "Editor's Choice" for November 2008. Their performance of Bach's St. Matthew Passion at the Victoria Hall in Geneva (1 March 2009) was broadcast by Radio Suisse Romande.
