

Roman Statkowski - Piano works Vol. 2 (2008)

Written by bluesever

Sunday, 29 October 2017 16:08 -

---

Roman Statkowski - Piano works Vol. 2 (2008)

Two Idylles, Op. 18 1. 2 idylles op. 18: I. in E major 2. 2 idylles op. 18:II. in A flat major
Three Obereks, Op. 22
3. 3 Obereks op. 22: I. in C major 4. 3 Obereks op. 22: II. in A flat major 5. 3 Obereks op. 22:
III. in D major
Three Mazurkas, Op. 2
6. 3 Mazureks op. 24: I. in G minor 7. 3 Mazureks op. 24: II. in D major 8. 3 Mazureks op. 24:
III. in A major
Three Piecettes polonaises, Op. 9
9. 3 Piecettes polonaises op. 9: I. Cracovienne - reverie 10. 3 Piecettes polonaises op. 9: II.
Oberek 11. 3 Piecettes polonaises op. 9: III. Dumka
Three Krakowiaks, Op. 24
12. 3 Krakowiaks op. 23: I. in C sharp minor 13. 3 Krakowiaks op. 23: II. in B flat major 14. 3
Krakowiaks op. 23: III. in D flat major
Six Pieces, Op. 16
15. 6 Pieces op. 16: I. Capriccio 16. 6 Pieces op. 16: II. Impromptu 17. 6 Pieces op. 16: III.
Valse 18. 6 Pieces op. 16: IV. All'antico 19. 6 Pieces op. 16: V. Alla burla 20. 6 Pieces op. 16:
VI. Aupres de la fontaine
Barbara Karaskiewicz – piano

In my search of forgotten Polish music I have come across another "uncharted territory" - the figure of Roman Statkowski. His operatic, symphonic, chamber, or solo output is familiar only through dictionaries and encyclopaedias. Until very recently no Polish artist or ensemble, not to mention foreign ones, performed his works. My contact in 2004 with the excellent pianist of the younger generation, Barbara Karaśkiewicz, radically changed this situation. Our common fascination of Roman Statkowski and his music soon bore fruit in beautiful recordings of his piano works. At the same time, the artist has included these worthwhile pieces in the programme of her recitals: she is the only pianist that can boast of being able to perform the entire piano output of this great composer. I believe that thanks to these albums, which present piano works composed by Roman Statkowski, he will get through not only to music lovers, but also musicians, who will include some of these pieces in their repertoires. We will be happy to

Roman Statkowski - Piano works Vol. 2 (2008)

Written by bluesever

Sunday, 29 October 2017 16:08 -

---

give access to his scores to anyone interested in performing them. Based on the general idea of promoting Polish culture, we chose for the cover of the album a detail of a painting by the great Polish artist, Józef Chełmoński, a contemporary of the composer. ---Jan A. Jarnicki, acteprealable.com

Once again the Acte Prelable label has issued a second recital of select piano composers of Roman Statkowski - (1859-1925). This label specializes on unique Polish piano music as performed by several excellent Polish pianists and Barbara Karaskiewicz is such an artist. The music is romantic with an emphasis on the Polish dance art form as is reflected in this second volume of select piano compositions.

The music has charm and grace. Even with its Chopin flavor for the romantic, there are also reflections found in Russian style works and a hint of impressionism in this style of compositions. The performances are sensitive, lush, and with total understanding for the musical phrase. Outstanding examples include The Three Mazurkas; Six Pieces and the Two Idylles. Excellent program notes give a fine background into the composer, his life and select compositions found on this particular recording. --- Dennis E. Ferrara, amazon.com download (mp3 @320 kbs):

yandex mediafire uloz.to mega 4shared cloudmailru gett

back