

Jack McDuff - Color Me Blue (1992)

Written by bluesever

Thursday, 06 June 2019 13:54 -

Jack McDuff - Color Me Blue (1992)

1 Don't Let The Sun Catch 2 Mo' Candy 3 Color Me Blue 4 Almost Like Being In Love 5 Old Folks 6 Pump It Up 7 My Funny Valentine 8 Peddlin' 9 Cry Me A River 10 Broadway Jack McDuff - organ Red Holloway - saxophones George Benson, Ron Eschete, Phil Upchurch - guitars Kevin Axt - bass Joe Dukes - drums Denise Perrier - vocals

Recent cuts showing that organist Jack McDuff can still stomp through bluesy wailers, pound the bass pedals, and lead a hot combo through funky, exuberant numbers. He's heading a group with former band members like guitarist George Benson and drummer Joe Dukes, plus saxophonist Red Holloway, guitarist Ron Eschete and Phil Upchurch, among others. ---Ron Wynn, AllMusic Review

Brother Jack McDuff. American jazz organist and band leader, born 17 September 1926, Champaign, Illinois, U.S.A., died 23 January 2001, Minneapolis, Minnesota, U.S.A. Jack McDuff was a talented bandleader and organist with the Hammond B-3. He started his career in the 50s working with piano and organ. In 60s created his band with Harold Vick and drummer Joe Dukes and then hired a young guitarist called George Benson. He published a lot of albums with famous jazz labels like Blue Note or Prestige. During the 80s he played electronic keyboards and published his music for Sugarhill records, a famous record label owned by the soul singer Sylvia Robinson (well-known for the Sugarhill Gang and Rapper's delight, the 1st

Jack McDuff - Color Me Blue (1992)

Written by bluesever

Thursday, 06 June 2019 13:54 -

million-dollar rap hit). ---discogs.com

download (mp3 @320 kbs):

yandex mediafire ulozto gett bayfiles

back