Short for Marché International du Disque et de l'Édition Musicale, MIDEM is the world's largest music industry trade fair, which has been held annually at and around the Palais des Festivals in Cannes, France, since 1967. Bringing together musicians, businesspeople, cultural policy makers, and journalists from many countries, it provides a forum for business talks, discussing political and legal issues, and showcasing new artists, musical trends and music-related products. A series of conferences are notably organised, in keeping with MIDEM's growing vocation to educate the industry about new revenue streams.
