Celtic Woman is pleased to release a special Limited Edition album of sweet and beautiful lullabies. A compilation of their most-recognized soothing songs from their past albums mixed with brand-new songs, this heartfelt collection of lullabies will relax both children and adults. From the world reknown "Brahm's Lullabye" and "Hush Little Baby (Mockingbird)" to Disney classics "When You Wish Upon A Star" (from Pinocchio) and "Stay Awake" (from Mary Poppins), Lullaby will calm the most restless listener of all ages. --- Editorial Reviews

This is a nice addition to the Celtic Woman collection but I was disappointed that there are only 10 tracks on the album and out of the 10 tracks only 6 of them are new and the other 4 tracks are reused from previous albums. They also don't include any tracks by new Celtic Woman singer Lisa Lambe. I don't see why they waited so long to release this album as there are songs on here by Lynn Hilary who left Celtic Woman a few months back right after Alex Sharpe left. But the biggest disappointment about this CD was the packaging that the record label decided to put it in, they didn't put it in a standard jewel case, they packaged it in a cardboard digipak and it does't include a booklet with artowrk or lyrics either. For the price that they are charging as i bought 2 copies last night for 11.99 at Best Buy they could have packaged it in a jewel case with an artwork booklet just like all their previous albums. All in all for the die-hard Celtic Woman collector such as I it is a must have. ---Jim Gardner

Celtic Woman: Lullaby is the sixth studio album by the group Celtic Woman set for release on 15 February 2011. This album was originally released exclusively through donations made to PBS stations back in November 2010 to support the Songs from the Heart television specials.

This is the second album where seven members (both current and previous) appear together, the first one being Celtic Woman: The Greatest Journey. The inspiration for this album came from fans who loved the lullabys performed by the group. Some songs have been taken from films such as Pinocchio and Mary Poppins. Some of the songs, such as Goodnight My Angel, Over the Rainbow, and Walking in the Air, are re-releases from the group's previous albums. Hush Little Baby is currently their shortest song to date.
