

Cyndi Lauper - Bring Ya To The Brink (Japan edition) [2008]

Written by bluelover

Friday, 30 March 2012 16:07 - Last Updated Wednesday, 07 December 2016 13:31

Cyndi Lauper - Bring Ya To The Brink (Japan edition) [2008]

1. High and Mighty 2. Into the Nightlife 3. Rocking Chair 4. Echo 5. Lyfe 6. Same Ol' Story 7. Raging Storm 8. Lay Me Down play 9. Give It Up play 10. Medley: Set Your Heart/Where Are All My Friends 11. Grab a Hold 12. Rain on Me 13. Got Candy (Bonus) 14. Can't Breathe (Bonus)

Personnel: Cyndi Lauper – vocals Knox Chandler – guitar Richard Morel - Guitar, Keyboards, Programmed By, Producer Craig Considine – trombone Dave Finnell – trumpet William Wittman – bass Dan Kurtz, Steve Gaboruy – keyboards Sammy Merendino – drums Roger Fife – Synthesizer

Since 1983, when Cyndi Lauper and Madonna both dropped debut albums and fought for the leg-warmer love of the burgeoning MTV nation, there hasn't been much reason to compare the two pop stars. Yet here they both are 25 years later, returning to the same terrain: the dance floor. Nixing the adult-contemporary vibe of her last studio album, 1997's mixed-bag Sisters of Avalon, Lauper teams up with pop-song doctors from the studio of Max Martin (Britney Spears, Kelly Clarkson) and electro wizards including Basement Jaxx and the Scumfrog for an album of club throb. On the pulsing Euro disco "Into the Nightlife," Lauper sings about happily partying, but by "Same Ol' Story" she's in full-out soul-diva mode, bitching about an unbalanced relationship with throaty emphasis. Closer "Rain on Me" glances back to her classic "Time After Time" with glowing synths, but it feels a bit chilly. Brink never reaches a full serotonin explosion like Confessions on a Dancefloor, but at least Lauper hastaken after the competition and found a new groove. ---Caryn Ganz, rollingstone.com download (mp3 @320 kbs):

yandex 4shared mega mediafire cloudmailru uplea ge.tt

Cyndi Lauper - Bring Ya To The Brink (Japan edition) [2008]

Written by bluelover

Friday, 30 March 2012 16:07 - Last Updated Wednesday, 07 December 2016 13:31

back