This debut release from Katie Walters is full of surprises, and well-worth the price of admission! Horns, with a splash of southern attitude and soul. The songs are full of visions and meanings with and you'll feel at ease with Katie leading the way. Katie's vocal pitch is true and in the bank,... not subcoming to the overused "fix-it-all" digital trickery. A big heart. I huge voice. A wall of sound! You'll love, "Take Care Of Me"! ---K. Katie Walters was born and raised in Northeast Louisiana. She loved music from a very young age, starting out in choir when she was only four. Her love of music only grew as she got older, singing in both church groups and competitive choir throughout high school. After moving to Colorado in 2006, she began to take an interest in song-writing, and began to arrange songs at her piano. The 14-track album recorded and produced at Aspen Leaf Recording Studio is heavily influenced by the sounds of gospel, blues, jazz, and soul. While the 13 original songs on the album are not "Christian" songs, several of the songs (So Bright, Lay Your Burdens Down, Take Care of Me) evoke a very "spiritual" feel, heavily saturated with soulful layers of background vocals, simulating a gospel choir. Other songs (Just Because) whose smokey-like vocals and sultry saxophone solos evoke an unmistakable jazz influence, push the album's boundaries, causing it to resist any one genre or classification.
