Quicksilver Messenger Service - Just For Love (1970)

1. Wolf Run, Pt. 1 2. Just For Love, Pt. 1 3. Cobra 4. The Hat 5. Freeway Flyer 6. Gone Again 7. Fresh Air 8. Just For Love, Pt. 2 9. Wolf Run, Pt. 2 Personnel: Dino Valenti (vocals, guitar, flute, congas); David Freiberg (vocals, guitar); Gary Duncan (vocals, acoustic guitar, electric guitar, maracas, wood block); John Cipollina (electric guitar, slide guitar); Nicky Hopkins (piano); Greg Elmore (drums, percussion); + Nicky Hopkins (piano).

With the return of Gary Duncan and the recording debut of founder Dino Valenti, Just for Love, Quicksilver's fourth album, marked their debut as the band they were intended to be. The ironic thing about that is that, led by singer/songwriter Valenti, they were a much more pop-oriented band than their fans had come to expect. On Just for Love, Quicksilver finally was Valenti's backup group (he wrote all but one of the songs), and while this gave them greater coherence and accessibility, as well as their only Top 50 single in "Fresh Air," it also made them less the boogie band they had been. And it meant the band's days were numbered. --- William Ruhlmann, allmusic.com
