This is the best soundboard recording to surface from The Grande Ballroom in Detroit on 15 October 1967. By this time, Cream was much more adventurous in their playing when compared to shows earlier in year. This set features a truly amazing version of "Spoonful". "NSU" and "Steppin' Out" are excellent examples of why Eric is credited as being one of the prime innovators of feedback as a musical tool. "NSU" also features a live example of Eric's distinctive "woman tone" sound. ---whereseric.com
