I have always loved this album. It was never released on CD and no songs from it are on YouTube. I was playing it recently, and admiring the fine playing therein. The credits don't list the bassist, drummer or piano player, which is a shame considering what they add to the album. Details about the album are sketchy. As it is dated 1970, I know it is a long shot that I will ever find out, but after forty three years I thought it would be nice to know who I have been listening to all along. --- Blue Dog, blindman.fr.yuku.com
