Davies - producer Paul Opalach (organ).

I purchased this CD in advance of the release date and was very much satisfied with the driving instrumentals. Here's some old-school blues that will stick to your ribs. There are five covers and six originals that really rock out in that familiar blues tone of a long time master. I really enjoy Debbie's guitar on all of these tracks, it's what you yearn for when you see her live. It's back to blues guitar basics on this album and no vocals to distract though after a while you miss that vocal instrument of Davies. My only complaint about this CD is the length of each tune, I'd love to hear an extended version on just about all of these tracks. Add it to your DD collection, you won't be disappointed and go see her live whenever you get the chance. --- Ruatan Red (Maryland, USA), amazon.com
