Virginie Teychené was exposed to the great jazz singers since her early childhood, and she still today is very passionate about them. She listened thoroughly and emulated the great Sarah, Ella, Bille, Dinah, Shirley... but also the male singers like Chet, Joao and Eddie Jefferson. By doing this she's created her own personal style, fed by the strong desire to find her own way.

Alongside her law and literature studies, she sings professionally in various formations playing different genres, eventually choosing to focus on jazz only. With the "Workshop Experience" collective she elaborates a very original way of interpreting the themes and of improvising, somewhat like a played instrument. She plays the usual jazz circuit: jam sessions, clubs, gigs, and finally in 2004 she's noticed at the jazz festival of La Seyne sur mer (Côte d'Azur, France).

At the end of 2006 she records her debut album "Portraits", where one can listen to her fondness for the revisited jazz standards but also for the great composers (Strayhorn, Mingus, Jobim, ...). Around these themes one can hear and understand the multiple characters of her talent: sensitivity, energy, swing, imagination - accompanied by the optimal musicians who perform with her. ---jazzcds.co.uk
