A Superb Vocalist who Evokes the Swinging Sounds of the Big Band Era. Molly's silvery voice and lush, elegant vocal style evoke the big band singers of the 1930s and breathe new life into familiar old standards. Originally from Roseville, CA, she made her singing debut at the Sacramento Jazz Jubilee with the Reynolds Brothers' Rhythm Rascals when she was eleven. Since moving to New York City in August of 2003, Molly has appeared with such prominent jazz artists as Randy Reinhart, Howard Alden, Jon-Erik Kellso, Kevin Dorn, and Mark Shane. Last year she led an all-star band in a tribute to the late, great vocalist, Anita O'Day. She is proud to announce the release of her new solo album, "Songbird in the Moonlight."
