Besides the fine performance of the Mass for Pentecost (Missa Dum complerentur) offered on this disc, listeners will find four of Palestrina's most popular and beloved motets: Super flumina Babylonis, Exsultate Deo, Sicut cervis, and O bone Jesu, exaudi me. If you're looking for an introduction to this great Italian Renaissance master, this recording serves the purpose very well, not in the least because it provides an interesting look at the common practice called "parody." This technique involved the composition of a work such as a Mass using thematic material from another source, in this case a motet--Dum Complerentur which is also included at the end of the program. The men and boys of Christ Church Cathedral Choir really have their hearts in these pieces, but the Super flumina Babylonis and Sicut cervis are exemplary--and exceptionally lovely. --David Vernier, amazon.com
