Douce France - 100 Best of French Songs (2016) CD2

14. Yves Montand — C'est Si Bon 15. Josephine Baker — J'ai Deux Amours 16. Fernandel — Felicie Aussi 17. Boris Vian — Le Deserteur 18. Sheila — Premiere Surprise-Partie 19. Claude Francois — Si J'avais Un Marteau 20. Georges Brassens — Chanson Pour L'auvergnat 21. Johnny Hallyday — Souvenirs Souvenirs 22. Boris Vian — J'suis Snob 23. Francoise Hardy — Tous Les Garcons Et Les Filles 24. Hugues Aufray — Santiano 25. Claude Nougaro — Le Cinema 26. Serge Gainsbourg — La Chanson De Prevert

The French pop music is very popular around Europe; its style has emerged from the combination of yé-ýe and rock music, although the English pop music has influenced over many French pop singers. Pop music currently has many famous interpreters such as Alizée, Natasha Bedingfield and Cerena, although they are not as popular in America as in France, their songs are fantastic and they have won many music awards. French Rock Music is produced in France and is a style of rock singed in French. With the arrival of the new wave in the 1970's, many bands of progressive rock appear such as Ange, Magma, Pulsar and Eskaton. And with the influence of the rock from British some bands of French punk rock appear, bands such as Métal Urbain, Stinky Toys and Oberkampf. In the 1980's, many thinks change with the change of the political culture; thanks to that many youth bands of rock and progressive rock appear in a distinct way and they can compete with the American and British rock bands.
---frenchlanguageguide.com

download (mp3 @320 kbs):

yandex mediafire ulozto gett

back