The grandeur inherent in Deep Purple's brand of heavy metal fully flowered on stage at the 2011 Montreux Festival. Backed by a symphony orchestra, they closed out the fest with these glorious performances of Highway Star; Maybe I'm a Leo; Woman from Tokyo; Lazy; Perfect Strangers; Space Truckin'; Smoke on the Water; Hush; Black Night , and more. Nearly two hours; DVD and Blu-Ray include a bonus band interview! ---Editorial Reviews

This is an excellent concert! The song selection is really good and the audio quality is strong and clear. The video quality is very crisp and clear, A great Blu-Ray disc.. I have purchased many Deep Purple video's and this is one of their better concerts. The band look like they are having a good time and playing greatly together, the orchestra seems to enjoy what they are doing also. The interview segments are a nice addition to the concert. Highly recommended to fans of Deep Purple. --- Music Lover, amazon.com
